Mattapoisett Boat Yard Launches Custom Convertible

By Kenneth J. Souza

What once must have been a familiar sight during the heyday of the shipbuilding trade in Mattapoisett made a welcomed return last weekend as over 300 curious onlookers and supportive well-wishers flooded the town wharf area to witness the christening and launching of a unique, custom-built convertible vessel crafted by Brownell Boat Yard, Inc.

The striking 52-foot craft — which was christened the Shan Lin — was lowered into Mattapoisett Harbor amidst a swell of applause and screaming boat horns on Sunday afternoon, October 12 at just before 3:00 pm. Brownell Boat Yard President and CEO Linda B. Shea cracked a bottle of champagne on the wooden bow which had been wisely protected with a towel just before the stern eased into water.

The vessel was the culmination of 13 years' worth of work which began with Fred Brownell's dream to build a bigger and faster company model. "My father had built a 50-foot Brownell, and this was the next step up from that," said Linda Shea. "It's the only 52-foot Brownell in existence ... and it's certainly one-of-a-kind. We built it specifically for sale. If someone wanted us to build another one, we would — it would realistically take about two years to build. We took longer on this one because it was an in-between project to keep our men busy during the slow season."

The 52-foot Custom Convertible was designed by Eldredge-McInnis and was originally crafted for company founder Fred Brownell. The vessel blends classic craftsmanship with contemporary, state-of-the-art construction materials to minimize weight. The high-tech composite hull is comprised of epoxy, wood, and kevlar laminates providing the integrity of fiberglass and the strength and durability of wood with superb sound insulation and exceptional rigidity. The boat's modified V-hull with pronounced bow flair and flat aft sections allow her to get up on a plane quickly and provide a soft and dry ride with exceptional handling.

Ms. Shea was thrilled at the excellent turnout for the launch last weekend, adding that the town residents have always been supportive of their work. "It was wonderful, and the weather cooperated with us," she said. "That was the only thing I couldn't control. This project represented a lot of town involvement, and I wanted them all there. They were involved in one way or another. There were a lot of people interested in the project all these years ... it was fantastic that we got such a good turnout."

Though the boat yard has been involved in previous christenings and launches, this was the first time they were responsible for putting the whole thing together — and Ms. Shea said she wasn't disappointed with the results. "Most of the launches we've had in past years were put on by the boat owners," she said. "They had us build the boat, and they would have the party. In this case, I own the boat and I put this on."

But the thrill had begun to fade as the Shan Lin departed Tuesday morning for Fort Lauderdale, Florida, where it will be proudly displayed for sale at a major boat show at the end of the month. "Today I'm a little sad because the boat left for Florida," Ms. Shea said. "It was a great feeling (to launch the vessel). I'm so proud of the employees ... when the boat went down into the water, the feeling I had was indescribable."

"A few people have expressed interest in purchasing the boat," said John Hendricks of Bartram and Brakenhoff, Inc., the selling agent for the craft. "We're hoping the exposure will generate more focus on the boat."

The state-of-the-art vessel — which boasts an asking price of $1.2 million — has met everyone's expectations. "There have been no disappointments (with this boat)," Mr. Hendricks said. "The price we're asking is very comparable to anything of this caliber and quality. We did some trials about a month ago, and it operated very smoothly. We gauged its top speed at 33.9 knots with a cruising speed of 27 knots."

Though the gleaming white and yellow craft was christened Shan Lin just before dipping into Mattapoisett Harbor, Ms. Shea noted that it probably won't retain the name once it's purchased. "I'm sure whoever buys it will want to put their own name on it," she said, adding that they needed to name the vessel temporarily so that it might be registered for the upcoming boat show.

Ms. Shea said the name Shan Lin immediately came to mind as it was her father's tradition of naming his boats after his daughters — "Shan" for her sister Sharon, and "Lin" after herself. "That was something my father started years ago," she said.

Now that the years-in-the-making Shan Lin is off in search of a potential buyer, the folks at Brownell Boat Yard, Inc. will be looking to build similar models — even of smaller proportions if so desired. "We intend on building smaller ones, I don't know if they'll be 26 feet or 33 feet," Ms. Shea said. "Now we're going to let the dust settle from this project, get the group reorganized, and focus on building more." ## Mattapoisett Special Town Meeting

October 14, 1997

By Pamela L. Sylvia

A Special Town Meeting for Mattapoisett was called to order on Tuesday, October 14 at 7:00 pm by Town Moderator William Blasdale in the auditorium of Old Rochester Regional High School. Also present were members of the Board of Selectmen, members of the Finance Committee (FinCom), members of the Board of Health, as well as other town officials and a quorum of 108 registered voters.

The Special Town Meeting warrant consisted of two major articles which voters were asked to consider:

- Article 1: Administrative Consent Order - Sanitary Landfill: To see if the town will vote to authorize the Board of Selectmen and the Board of Health to execute, in the name of the town, an administrative consent order requiring the town to cease accepting waste at the landfill by July 1, 1998, and requiring the town to complete capping the landfill in accordance with the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) requirements by October 29, 1999.

When the floor was opened to questions, only three were asked. The first issue concerned why there were no dollar amounts on the warrant. Town Counsel Daniel Perry informed the voters that the Board of Selectmen will need to approach the people for an appropriation of funds in the future. The town is authorized to enter into a commitment to close the landfill, but they will need the approval of the voters before that happens.

The concern over funding still stuck in everyone's minds, as the next question was how much money it would take to cap the landfill. Town Counsel Perry then interjected by saying: "Outside estimates are around $1.3 million for the actual capping, and the town will have an estimated $1.5 million for it by the end of the fiscal year. The town will not have to pay anything."

With the possible capping, the last issue involved where the trash would then go. Board of Health Chairman Dan Lee informed the voters that the town will construct a transfer station, which should be completed by next spring. The station will be used for composting, recycling, and white goods. Plus, certain kinds of trash will go also be taken to the SEMASS facility in Rochester.

With no further questions, the people unanimously voted to authorize the Board of Selectmen and the Board of Health to execute an administrative consent order requiring the town to cease accepting waste at the town landfill by July 1, 1998, and complete capping by October 29, 1999.

• Article 2: Commission on Disabilities: To see if the town will vote to accept the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws, which would establish a Commission on Disabilities to be appointed by the Board of Selectmen, whose purpose would be to promote full integration and participation of people with disabilities in the town.

According to Town Counsel Perry, the powers of the Disabilities Commission are as follows: to advise, investigate, and make recommendations to all town boards. Some people were unclear as to what the difference was between a committee and a commission.

The town already has a committee formed. But Selectman Michele Bernier noted: "If anyone from the committee is here, they can feel free to answer this. They probably can answer it better than myself, but if the town has a commission, they will be in line to receive money from the state to help make buildings more handicap accessible."

If voted upon favorably, the newly-established commission will be a permanent part of town government.

Resident Randall Kunz then asked whether the town would be obligated to finance the group every year. Town Counsel Perry said "no."

When the article was considered for a vote, it was approved 104 in favor to 4 against.

With no further articles or matters to consider, the Special Town Meeting was adjourned for the evening.

from last week to transfer the liquor license of Barros Drive Café to Georgianna Silva and George Ferry III from the previous owner. Although the application was submitted last week, the Board of Selectmen had some concerns that Ms. Silva was described as "manager" of the establishment on the application. But Ms. Silva had only assisted the existing owner as bookkeeper and bartender. They asked her attorney, Michael Zeman, to resubmit the application with the correction.

With the revised application submitted, the board unanimously voted to approve the license transfer and wished both Ms. Silva and Mr. Ferry luck in their new venture.

Hearing with Bradford Eames, Chairman of the Board of Assessors. Mr. Eames recommended that the board maintain a Residential Factor of 1 for the town's tax classification — meaning that Marion will retain a single tax rate for both commercial and residential property.

Resident Tyler Blethen wanted to know on what criteria the Board of Assessors' decision was based. Mr. Blethen felt that by maintaining a single tax rate, an unfair amount of the tax burden was being placed on the residential homeowner.

"We feel very strongly that all property (in Marion) should be taxed the same," Mr. Eames said. "Typically, only larger cities will go with Residential Factor 2, or two separate tax rates for residential and commercial."

Both Selectman Winters and Mr. Pickles agreed with Mr. Eames, adding that everyone is treated equally with a single tax rate. "The thing to remember is that the Board of Assessors also calculates assessments based on the single tax rate," Mr. Pickles said. "They don't shift the burden of the tax rate ... the Assessors also don't give abatements to businesses in town."

With that, the board unanimously voted to adopt a Residential Factor 1 (single tax rate) for the Town of Marion for the next fiscal year. Mr. Eames noted that they should be receiving information from the Department of Revenue any day now, after which they will be able to set the tax rate. He expects tax bills to go out before the end

The Board of Selectmen and the various department heads present agreed to share the burden of Mr. Pickles' duties while he is on medical leave. Everyone wished Mr. Pickles the best and noted they were anxious for him to return to his desk as soon as he is recovered.

"We really hope all goes well," Selectman Winters said. "Good luck and hurry back to us."

"I hope to be back soon, too," Mr. Pickles said.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, the board received:

- Response from Nancy Leonardo, Government Relations Manager for MediaOne, regarding the board's recent concerns over service to Marion residents. Ms. Leonardo noted that additional phone lines were added on September 16 which should increase the company's availability to customers by 71 percent over the next two weeks. They also plan to hire more staff members by the end of October, which should boost their staffing level by 154 percent.

On the down side, Ms. Leonardo noted that the company can no longer offer the FM reception option to Marion customers. Although the discontinuance of this service was not mentioned during contract negotiations, they also did not promise to retain the service. Ms. Leonardo noted that perhaps if more than 74 customers had subscribed to the FM service, it might have been given more consideration;

• Letter from Town Counsel Thomas P. Crotty regarding the storm water retention basins in the area of Joanne Drive. According to Mr. Crotty, only one of the ponds is on town property. Under current law, the town should not be liable for any injury which occurs in such a pond because "general liability for injury does not apply to ponds, including artificial ones, which have natural characteristics and no hidden dangers";

• Request from the Town of Rochester to support a measure to designate Route 105 as a "scenic highway" in an effort to preserve the rural character of the roadway. Mr. Pickles said Route 105 has never been designated "scenic" because it is unclear what the designation means. Selectman Dickerson looked up the term in the Massachusetts General Laws and found it would protect the road from being altered in terms of its rural characteristics without notification.

"It is one of the more beautiful rural roads in our area," Chairman Schaefer said. "I support their effort to designate it as a 'scenic' way ... and if you have no objections I'll send a letter of support to (Rochester)";

MEMORIES DON'T SELL

If you are selling your home, remember that you are putting just a house on the market and not the pleasant memories you have accumulated there over the years. To the critical buyer, a house for sale is not yet a home and your fond reminiscences may not fit into the buyer's lifestyle. After preparing your house to show to its best advantage, step into the background. Leave all the selling to our agency, we are trained to be objective. Our salesperson will have already gained all the required information from you. So let the salesperson alone conduct inspection tours and answer questions.

Your reason for selling may be important to you but a prospective buyer is unlikely to place any value on them. Don't let your reasons for selling overshadow the prospect's reasons for buying. Of course you'll be sad to leave your home, but push memories aside. If you allow sentiment to intrude when studying an offer to purchase you can lose not only your objectivity but the sale.

Call Bruce today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs. We're here to help!! 758-6738.

• Notice that the 38th Annual Tri-Town Veterans Day Parade will be held in Wareham on Tuesday, November 11 at 1:30 pm. The theme of this year's event is "Korea: The Forgotten War."

The board also unanimously voted to:

• Grant permission for Frank and Nancy Cerkovitz to extend the gravity sewer service to their new home on Cross Neck Road located easterly of the former Dougall property. There is also potential for an additional house to be constructed on the property at some future date;

• Allow the Hammetts Cove Trust to connect four residences to the town sewer line before the end of 1997 and allow no more than four additional tie-ins from the same area within 1998.

Chairman Schaefer noted she talked to Richard Guerzoni again regarding the fire horn in the village area. She suggested the Board of Fire Engineers might look into purchasing a newer alarm/horn system as she has received some complaints from residents about the horn being too loud.

Mr. Pickles suggested that instead of lowering the horn volume — which would be difficult considering the age of the unit — they might be able to turn the direction of the horn 180 degrees so that it sounds toward the Route 6 area instead of the harbor/village area. The board agreed to pass this suggestion along to the Board of Fire Engineers.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:10 pm.

that goes back nearly 50 years, Mattapoisett children will be "Trick or Treating" for UNICEF on Halloween. In their little orange boxes, local children will be collecting gifts for the world's neediest children. These gifts will help UNICEF provide clean water, vaccinations, education, and medical help to children in 160 developing countries. Last year, New England school children raised nearly $300,000 for UNICEF's life-saving projects.

During the month of October, many schools use UNICEF curriculum guides, which this year examine child labor. The students contrast their after-school work of babysitting and paper routes with that of children exploited in sweat shops or on farms. This year Beth Eden of Mattapoisett will be collecting for UNICEF.

Besides helping the world's neediest kids, UNICEF New England provides orange boxes, curriculum guides, videos, and other materials to schools, churches, and social groups in local communities. These may be ordered by calling (617) 277-3334.

Rebecca Parris in Mattapoisett

Internationally-known Boston jazz singer Rebecca Parris will be giving a concert at the Old Hammondtown Elementary School on Thursday, November 13 from 7:00 to 9:30 pm. Proceeds from this event will go to help the OHS Jazz Band fund a trip to Virginia.

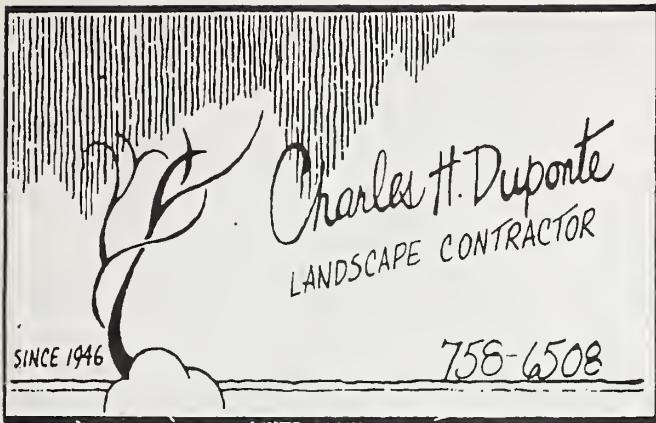

Music educators at Shenandoah University in Winchester, Virginia are eager to have the OHS Jazz Band perform and give a clinic at the University in March, 1998. They feel that the band is one of the most outstanding elementary bands that they have heard and are certain that area educators could learn from conductor Stan Ellis and the OHS Band. However, a trip of this nature will cost a great deal of money and fund raising will be necessary.

Ms. Parris has for a long time been interested in music education — her own father and mother were teachers. Rebecca has graciously donated her time and singing talents for the upcoming concert in order to help Mr. Ellis and the Jazz Band. Likewise, her pianist, George Mesterhazy from New Jersey, is donating his time and talents. As a duo Rebecca and George will be performing some of the all time favorite hits that Rebecca has

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

Canine Arthritis

I have an 11 year old German Shepherd dog that limps after we play ball. My veterinarian says that the dog has hip dysplasia. What can I do to make him more comfortable now that colder weather is approaching?

There are 2 major groups of drugs that you can use for your arthritic dog. The first are drugs that help regenerate the cartilage that lines the joint and the second are anti-inflammatory drugs.

There are 3 products that help cartilage and general joint environment. Chondroitin sulfate, glucosamine and Adequan all seem to help cartilage regenerate itself and help modify the fluid in the joints to make animals more comfortable. These drugs have very few side effects.

Non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) are often useful in dogs but NOT CATS. Bufferin and Ascriptin can be used as the first line of defense. Ibuprofen (Advil) should never be used in your pet as it causes severe ulceration of the stomach in dogs. You may want to discuss the use of Rimadyl with your veterinarian. It is a new anti-inflammatory drug that seems to be fairly safe and very effective in treatment of arthritis in dogs.

Fort Phoenix Walking Tour

An authentic Revolutionary War fort, artist William Bradford, the American Tack Works, and millionaire Henry Huttleston Rogers will be among the subjects of a Fairhaven Office of Tourism Walking Tour, scheduled for Saturday, October 18 at 2:00 pm. The tour begins in Willow Park at the corner of South and Fort Streets. Tourism Director Christopher J. Richard will act as guide.

From Fairhaven's earliest days, the vicinity once known as Nolscot Point has seen a great many changes since the Wampanoags roasted shellfish in a stone oven on the granite ledge by the sea. The scene of battles in two wars, the site of Rogers' 85-room summer mansion at the turn of the century, the place where lighthouse keeper Small's wife was swept away during the Hurricane of '38, the present location of the longest man-made stone structure on the east coast in the United States — the area around Fort Phoenix is rich in history and the stuff of legends. The tour will take walkers along the Fort Street route once used by trolleys to bring thousands of bathers to the beach overlooking the bay.

A black and white photograph of a large, arched sign for Smith Associates. The sign features the text "WELCOME TO" at the top, followed by a decorative flourish. Below that is "Smith" in a large, stylized serif font, then "ASSOCIATES" in a smaller, all-caps serif font. A horizontal line separates this from "REAL ESTATE" in a bold, italicized sans-serif font. Another horizontal line follows, leading to "Sales & Rental" in a bold sans-serif font, and "CENTER" in a smaller, all-caps sans-serif font at the bottom.

Acushnet, Lakeville, Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester. Lakeville and Mattapoisett just joined the collaborative as of October 1.

Judith Coykendall, PACT Program Director, feels that "we are so pleased Mattapoisett is partnering in our efforts. The PACT Program is now three years old, and we feel that we have learned a great deal about tobacco education and prevention in that short period. We hope to bring that experience to the two new communities which have joined us."

The PACT Program is sponsoring a FREE hypnotherapy session for smokers wanting to quit on Thursday, October 23 at 7:00 pm in the Old Hammondtown School Auditorium. Rhett Holden-Dodge of the Stop Smoking Institute has conducted these sessions in our region in the recent past with great success. "I can't tell you the number of people who have successfully quit and stay quit due to having participated in the session with (Mr. Holden-Dodge)," Ms. Coykendall said. "It is so exciting to see people make this positive change in their lives."

Ms. Coykendall added that "people who have been hypnotized by Rhett in former sessions come to this session to reinforce their resolve to stay quit. Several participants of past sessions have been re-hypnotized and found it to be a successful strategy to prevent relapse."

For further information and registration, please call Judith Coykendall at 748-3531. Registration is limited, so please call as soon as possible.

tabulating 300 responses to its survey of library use. Surveys were mailed in late August to 3,100 households. The results will be published later this month, according to Joan Anderson, Chairman of the Trustees.

The survey, which asked questions about hours, service and available materials, was organized by the long-range planning committee. The committee is studying the feasibility of an addition to the library. It has also started a building maintenance program headed by Robert Atkinson, committee chairman, and Philip Zeimet, a volunteer. The air conditioning and heating systems have been upgraded, roofs on the two wings repaired under a $985 contract, and the building power-washed by volunteers.

The featured adult cat is a very sweet lovable long-haired tiger mom who has just finished weening her six kittens which have all been adopted. She was an excellent mother and is now waiting for someone to give her the home she deserves. She is very young and playful. Another adult offering this week is a gorgeous pure-bred Himalayan male who has been neutered and declawed. He loves people but not other cats. If you want a great companion cat, please call Cecile at 996-6206 to see "Scooter." Also available is a male neutered declawed tiger.

Animal Umbrella, Inc. also has many older kittens ranging from five to nine months of age — all are spayed and neutered and vaccinated. They include two short-haired tiger females, a beautiful dusty orange male, and his sibling: a gray and white male.

In the dog category this week, they are still seeking new homes for a very abused small dog named "Benny" who can be seen by calling 758-2347. Also, a three- to four-year-old spayed and vaccinated Beagle mix whose owner has recently gone into a nursing home — if interested, please call Linda at 758-9371. The Fairhaven Animal Shelter has been closed for a week, so if interested in adopting a dog, please call Kristin at 979-4028 for an update.

In the Lost and Found department this week: lost in Mattapoisett from Main Street — an all-silver grey adult female who was recently spayed and ear-nicked (the left ear will be flat, not pointed). If seen, please call Susan or Mary Lou listed below.

Tibetan teachings are trivialized in latest Brad Pitt showcase

By ROB GONSALVES

■ Seven Years in Tibet. Starring Brad Pitt and David Thewlis. Directed by Jean-Jacques Annaud. Running time: 135 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13. At Cinema 140 in New Bedford.

Seven Years in Tibet is the first of two films this year to deal with the Dalai Lama, the Nobel Peace Prize winner and exiled spiritual leader of Tibet. The other is Martin Scorsese's Kundun, due at Christmas. It has a three-hour running time and it does not have Brad Pitt, so it will be a tough sell. I recommend holding out for Kundun.

The current movie adheres to Hollywood's Cry Freedom Rule of Racist Indifference: The mass white audience won't care about the life of a great man who doesn't happen to be white, unless he's the supporting character in a movie about a white boy. Indeed, Seven Years in Tibet goes all out and gives us the über-blond, blue-eyed Brad Pitt as mountain climber Heinrich Harrer, who is Austrian and also a former Nazi. Harrer, of course, is enlightened and redeemed through his exposure to the young Dalai Lama—it's Schindler's List meets Little Buddha.

The film is certainly handsome. The director, Jean-Jacques Annaud, also made Quest for Fire and The Bear, which relied heavily on nature's watercolors and had almost no human dialogue. But Annaud's pictorial style is impressive without being expressive. Any shot from the movie would look ravishing out of context, but there's nothing under the images—not even any storytelling pizzazz à la Spielberg. The rhythm is smooth and deadening. It's all "Look at this, look at this, ooh, look at this." It's a slide show of Tibet (actually, it's Argentina and the Andes).

Those who giggled at Pitt's allegedly Irish lilt in The Devil's Own ("Ay naid tha' mooney, Tum") should know that he has better luck with his Austrian accent as Harrer—though he becomes noticeably less Teutonic once he starts bonding with the Dalai Lama. Cold and selfish, Harrer deserts his pregnant wife to go climb the Nanga Parbat for the greater glory of Germany—and himself. Fully the first half of the film follows Harrer and his expedition leader Peter Aufschnaiter (David Thewlis, much more amiable here than usual) as they are captured by the British and locked up in a POW camp, which they escape by fleeing to Tibet. It's there that Harrer meets the 14-year-old Dalai Lama (Jamyang Jamtsho Wangchuk, who radiates serene curiosity and maturity as well as childlike mischief).

It's also there that the movie becomes ripe for parody. After more than an hour of solemn preparation, we get ... Brad Pitt showing a kid how to drive a car and work a radio. Wow. When the Dalai Lama isn't asking eager questions, he's spouting wisdom like a Buddhist Pez dispenser; dumbed down for the mass audience, the teachings sound like Yoda, or worse. "If you are worried about something, change it," he says, "and if you can't change it, why worry about it?" In other words: Don't worry, be happy. Whoa, this little dude is heavy, man.

I really hope Kundun does more justice to the subtlety of Buddhist thought. I think it would almost have to. Though if this movie leads even one Brad-happy teenage girl to the writing of Thich Nhat Hanh or Ayya Khema—or the Dalai Lama, for that matter—it will have done something right. In Seven Years in Tibet, the Dalai Lama comes off as a benevolent alien—E.T. in Coke-bottle glasses—and Harrer learns to love the son he abandoned. (What is he, a Promise Keeper?) The last act is rushed and murky, sprinting through the Chinese occupation of Tibet—which plays not as a climax but as an afterthought—and winding up, finally, with Harrer and his teenage son planting the Tibetan flag on a mountaintop. One large leap for a white man, one very tiny step for the people of Tibet.

This Week's Horoscope

by Linda Black

Aries (March 21-April 19). Your energy level is very high. The problem is that you don't want to exercise much discretion. Be careful.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). Don't stress about money. It's out there; all you have to do is get it. Do what your coach says. Explore new possibilities.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). The competition's fierce. Take notes instead of arguing, and you'll win next time. Money starts becoming more available.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). Your work load's impossible. Focus on old jobs and new ones will get easier. Get a partner to help. Delegate. Make ends meet by getting a friend to pay more.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). Don't hold back your true feelings. Declare an eternal fascination, if not a forever commitment. Practice. It's the only way to gain the skills.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Throw out superfluous items. Give your place a thorough cleaning. Have your true love over for dinner and serious planning.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You are forceful and dynamic. Complete a project that's long overdue. Make plans with family. A problem that's been pestering you will clear up.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You'll have a compulsion to gamble. Only bet on a sure thing. Use your experience to win. A private conversation provides the answer.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You are confident, bold and creative. An outrageous suggestion surprises your boss, but has merit. Carry out plans. If you do what you said, you'll win.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Admit you don't know how and ask for help. Explain to an older person who doesn't understand. The money you've been seeking is available.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Work within an enthusiastic team and break through to victory. You're lucky, but your last excuse has been used up. Produce the results.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Take careful notes. To get the benefits you need, talk to a bureaucrat. Don't take on a friend's financial problems.

If You're Having a Birthday This Week: Make changes at home to set things right, finally. Make a romantic commitment, so you can get on about your plans.

The work is designed to halt erosion on the so-called Munro parcel located between Water Street and the harbor. It would also alleviate the erosion threat to the town's westernmost access road to the wharves and is being designed to help prevent the undermining of Mello Wharf.

A fund-raising "thermometer" sign was installed on the property a few days ago to provide residents with updates on the drive's progress. Treasurer Martin Smith said actual donations total $16,749 with another $25,600 pledged in amounts of $500 or more. The figures include $571 raised at a bean and fishcake supper at the Mattapoisett Friends Meeting House and about $500 collected during Harbor Days.

"Now we are calling on other Mattapoisett businesses and individuals to help us reach our goal," said Robert H. Atkinson, seawall campaign chairman. Another $7,500 will bring the total to the $50,000 level, enough to complete the work on Phase 1, the construction of a 150-foot sloped stone revetment along the shoreline west from Mello Wharf and repairs to the seawall fronting the rest of the property. "This will stop the erosion," Mr. Atkinson said.

Phase 2 would continue the revetment to the western end of the property.

"Without the help of generous citizens and corporations, a beautiful and very public land parcel will erode into Mattapoisett Harbor," said Mr. Atkinson in an appeal to all town residents to take a more active part in the effort. "If every resident would contribute just $2, that would amount to $13,000. If each contributed $5, that would amount to $32,500." Businesses contributing $1,000 or more will be listed on the fund-raising sign.

Tax deductible gifts in any amount, including securities, may be sent to the Mattapoisett Land Trust, P.O. Box 31, Mattapoisett, MA 02739. Contributions should be designated for the seawall project. Updated reports on the fund-raising will be made to the public on a regular basis. For further information, please call 758-4401.
